Both Parties To Draft State Tax Program

Corporate Tax Boost Sought By Democrats

Harrisburg (AP)—A top Republican leader said yesterday Democrats are insisting on an increase in corporation taxes as a condition for support of a possible bi-partisan tax package.

The leader, who declined quotation by name, said there was a possibility the GOP lawmakers may go along with the Democrats on the idea.

"We don't have enough votes from among a 109-member Republican majority to put across a tax package without Democratic help," he told a newsman. "Therefore, we must work with them."

Republicans defied precedent in accepting the Democratic offer to join hands in working out a solution to a two-month deadlock.

Rep. H. G. Andrews, House Democratic leader, held out the bi-partisan olive branch on taxes. He told the House Thursday:

"I am sure that a program can be devised that I can ask the members of this side of the House to support."

Speaker Charles C. Smith (R-Phila.) said Andrews and other Democrats would be called into conference next week to discuss various components of a tax package to be drafted by Republicans.

"We're very willing to accept the Democratic offer," he said in an interview. "This is the first glimmer of a silver lining on the dark cloud of taxes so far this session."

Smith said a dozen or more components of a tax program are under consideration to plug a 157-million dollar gap in Gov. John S. Fine's proposed $1,400,000,000 budget. Talk of a substitute tax program arose after the one per cent sales tax proposal was discarded.

The speaker said taxes under consideration range from reviving the cent a bottle soft drinks tax and increasing present levies on beer, liquor and wine to imposing a mercantile tax on an impost on unincorporated businesses.

Democrats may be expected to ask for an increase in the five per cent corporate net income tax to six per cent.

Book Probe Bottled Up

Washington, (AP)—House leaders indicated yesterday the lid is on any further investigations into the field of obscene literature.

Bottled up in the House Rules Committee is a bill by Rep. Kearns (R-Pa.) to renew the probe of pornographic books and magazines held last year. Chairman Leo Allen (R-Ill.) said he expects to let it stay there.

In the last Congress, a special committee under the leadership of Rep. Gathings (D-Ark.) reported that obscene literature on local newsstands represents a danger to juvenile readers, but concluded Congress could not assume the role of censor of the nation's reading.

Inmate Buried Alive

New Lisbon, N. J., (AP)—The body of Charles Hanlon, 27, was found yesterday where he apparently had been buried alive Thursday in a game by fellow inmates at the State Colony for Feeble-minded Males.

RICHARD La Force, 19, is embraced by his mother in Los Angeles courtroom, after he was acquitted of charges of trying to murder Robert Hayden, 19, so he could marry the latter's wife. The jury convicted La Force of mixing poison with food with intent to harm. La Force faces a sentence of one to ten years.

State Receives $215,531 Bid On County Job

Harrisburg (AP)—The State Highways Department yesterday received an unofficial low bid of $215,531 from Julius Krummel and Guy Trimpey, of Canadensis, for the bituminous surfacing of 2.18 miles of highway on Route 90 in Paradise and Barrett Twp., Monroe County.

The resurfacing project extends from the concrete Paradise Valley road to a point about 300 feet from the Lackawanna grade crossing in Cresco, Pa.

State Highways Department is expected to let a contract at a later date for elimination of the grade crossing by utilizing an over-head structure.

House Restores Funds Slashed By Committee

Washington, (AP)—The House rebelled yesterday against fund slashes made by its Appropriations Committee and voted to increase new appropriations for six agencies in the Labor and Welfare Department.

In the face of mounting sentiment for even further increases in allotments still to be considered, the committee won an agreement to defer more voting until next Monday and Tuesday.

The boosts ordered yesterday were comparatively small, amounting to $6,534,891 on a bill totaling almost two billion dollars.

But they showed which way the wind was blowing and indicated the committee might suffer further reverses when some larger increases are proposed next week.

They were voted by a coalition of most Democrats and a liberal sprinkling of Republicans and some of them exceeded President Eisenhower's revised budget estimates. All are tentative, in that they are subject to roll-call votes next week.

Tidelands Oil Bill Signed By President

Washington, (AP)—President Eisenhower signed the controversial "tidelands" bill into law yesterday, declaring "I will always resist federal encroachment upon rights and affairs of the states."

The legislation asserts the rights of states to all submerged offshore land within their historic boundaries and gives them authority to develop the oil and other mineral riches lying in the underwater territory.

California, Florida, Texas and Louisiana will benefit especially, since oil wells already have been brought in off their coasts.

Generally the historic boundaries extend three miles offshore, but Texas and Florida claim four Spanish leagues—about 10½ miles—into the Gulf of Mexico.

Eisenhower invited 46 members of Congress to the signing ceremony. All of them had helped push the bill through Congress.

No Change Indicated

Washington (AP)—Acting Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith consulted members of Congress yesterday about the true negotiations in Korea. Some of those who attended said they expected no major change in U. S. policies.

Rain Drenches Front

Seoul, (AP)—Allied troops killed or wounded more than 100 Reds yesterday, fighting in rain that drenched the 155-mile front all day and grounded Allied aircraft.

Another Pay Boost Asked For Teachers

Harrisburg (AP)—The House Education Committee yesterday took custody of new legislation to give Pennsylvania's 62,000 teachers a $200 a year of cost of living salary increase.

The boost would be in addition to the $200 a year automatic increase they will get under a 1951 law. Its estimated cost would be 24 million dollars in the next biennium.

The bill, introduced Thursday by Reps. William Z. Scott (R-Carbondale) and Ellis E. Ferster (R-Snyder), is backed by the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

Chairman W. Stuart Helm (R-Armstrong), of the House education unit, said the measure would be given "good consideration" together with a companion bill to increase state subsidies to school districts to cover the expense of the cost-of-living boost.

The maximum subsidy for the present school year is $4,300 per each teaching unit. A teaching unit comprises 22 high school pupils or 30 elementary school pupils.

Under the new legislation, the subsidy, payable in the next school year, would go up to $200 to $4,500.

The PSEA called for the cost-of-living boost in a resolution passed last December.

Executive Secretary Harvey E. Gayman pointed out that the average salary in New York state is $4,625, Delaware $4,125 and Maryland $3,690.

"The estimate average salary in Pennsylvania this year is $3,504," he said. "Thousands of teachers with many years of service in the commonwealth are this year receiving $3,100 which is below an acceptable income standard in the present economy."

The teacher salary bills were introduced without the fanfare that accompanied similar legislation in other years. Since 1945 when minimum teachers' salaries were first mandated by the state, the minimum salary has climbed from $1,800 to $2,400 a year.

There was a big question if the teachers would be as successful this year as they have been in the past. Economy-minded lawmakers are looking askance at proposals to increase state costs while a battle is on to raise 157 millions in new taxes.

Physicist Found Guilty In Denying He Knew A-Spy

New York (AP)—William Perl, 34, a brilliant physicist, was convicted on two counts of perjury yesterday for denying three years ago that he knew members of an atom spy ring.

He faces up to 10 years in prison and $4,000 in fines.

No date was set for sentencing. A jury in Federal Court deliberated nearly six hours in reaching its verdict.

Perl was acquitted on two other counts of the indictment.

He was tried on a charge of lying in 1950 when he denied under oath he knew the condemned atom spy, Julius Rosenberg, and four other persons.

Woman Bears Second Child In Eight Days

Grove City, (AP)—Mrs. Joseph Saeler has given birth to her second baby in eight days.

Dr. Ralph Fennell said yesterday that Mrs. Saeler of nearby Sandy Lake, who has a double uterus, had a double pregnancy and a double birth. He said the chances for such an occurrence are one in five million. The physician said the babies technically are not twins.

Violent Storms Pound Parts Of Midwest, Causing Number Of Injuries, Property Loss

By The Associated Press

Violent spring storms lashed parts of the Midwest yesterday, injuring at least a dozen persons, wrecking buildings and homes and causing damage estimated at several hundred thousand dollars.

Floodwaters caused by spring downpours forced hundreds of additional families to flee their homes on the Texas-Louisiana border and sent damage past the two million dollar mark.

In Iowa, a violent wind and electrical storm was blamed for the crash of a C46 passenger plane which plunged to earth and burned 16 miles east of Des Moines. The only two aboard, the pilot and copilot were killed.

Illinois, Indiana and Ohio bore the brunt of the Midwest storms which struck a few hours after tornadoes ripped across the Michigan-Canadian border, killing at least five persons.

The winds knocked down trees, snapped power and telephone lines and blocked highways with debris.

At Watseka, Ill., about 70 miles south of Chicago, the wind snatched a school bus from the road and dropped it upside down in a field 300 feet away. The driver and single girl passenger were injured seriously.

Three persons were injured near Martinton, in Northeast Illinois, when their home was wrenched from its foundations and dropped on its side.

Hail piled up to a depth of 6 inches near Delphi, Ind., and in the adjoining strip of Illinois. At least seven persons were injured in the Illinois storm and five in Indiana.

Winds caused an estimated $50,000 damage at the small Ohio communities of Greenford and New Albany.

Louisiana troops increased their patrols after a suggestion by officials in nearby Orange, Tex., that dynamiting U. S. Highway 90 would release dangerous flood waters threatening Orange.

General Motors, CIO Agree To Pay-Raising Changes In Historic Five-Year Contract

Detroit, (AP)—General Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers yesterday agreed to changes in their current five-year contract to provide pay raises and other benefits for 350,000 workers throughout the nation.

The agreement was reached as separate strikes in four Midwestern parts plants idled 135,650 workers in the automotive industry.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the union would "press immediately" for similar concessions from other major manufacturers which have long-term contracts with the union.

Shortly after the GM-UAW announcement, James B. Carey, president of the CIO Electrical Workers Union, said GM and his union had reached a similar agreement covering 40,000 GM Electrical workers.

GM President Harlow H. Curtice termed the GM-UAW revisions "a practical solution to problems created by the Korean War and its resultant inflationary impact and the re-institution of government wage controls."

This is what the UAW and GM contract modifications are:

One—The annual improvement factor was raised to five cents an hour. The 1950 contract—a historic five-year pact—provided that hourly-rated workers should be a four-cent hourly pay hike during each year of the contract.

Two—GM granted a changeover from the "old" to the "new" Bureau of Labor Statistics price index. The UAW had declared the old index was outmoded. Under the five-year contract, wages and salaries are reviewed quarterly and adjusted with changes in the consumer price index.

Three—Nineteen of the 24 cents an hour cost of living advances which the workers gained thus far under the contract, will be added to base wage rates as of June 1. This means that the amount of wages subject to downward revision from present levels is limited to five cents an hour, no matter how much the cost of living goes down.

Four—GM granted 40,000 skilled trades workers across the nation an hourly increase of 10 cents. The UAW said "this increase is in recognition of the inequities that have developed, because of the Korean conflict, as between skilled trades workers employed by the corporation and those employed in jobbing shops."

The corporation declined to estimate the cost of the modifications. The agreement becomes effective with the June 1 pay periods.

Poling Warns Of 'Second Munich'

Washington, (AP)—Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling said last night "the time is ripe for . . . a second Munich" with Sir Winston Churchill cast in the role of Neville Chamberlain in calling for "peace in our time."

Churchill, said Dr. Poling, "seems at least to be suggesting a peace that would be as evil and infinitely more disastrous than the bastard thing that came out of Munich."

Dr. Poling, a prominent Baptist minister from Philadelphia, lit into Churchill and the British in an address to the All-American Conference to Combat Communism, of which Dr. Poling is the chairman.

The top 10-foot section was found to be unsafe and so, before the rush season opens, Fossa pondered the problem of reduction.

The chimney is located about 30 feet from the hotel, detached from the building and used in conjunction with his heating system.

Faced with the problem of reducing a 70-foot high brick chimney about 10 feet, Walt Fossa claims he went into consultation with several engineers on the subtraction at his Pocono Mountain Inn.

Fossa sets up the plan this way:

"Why not shoot the bricks out one-by-one?" the resort operator thought. And that's just what he proposed, and what he says has been accomplished.

Perching Ed Kunkjian in an attic window—braced with pillows for comfort, Fossa handed him a high-powered rifle, and a 22 caliber one. Then he bought

Dulles Doubts Value Of Talks With Russia

New Delhi, India (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday he doubted any good would come of big power talks with Soviet leaders unless the Communist bloc stopped its aggression in Korea and Indochina and agreed on independence for Austria.

His statement, given at a news conference here just before he flew on to Karachi, Pakistan, aroused special interest in the light of the coming Bermuda meeting of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill and whatever premier takes up the reins of France's fallen government.

Churchill has expressed the hope the Big Three talks next month might lead to a broader discussion of East-West tension with Soviet Premier Georgi N. Malenkov.

"I doubt," said Dulles, "that very important results could come out of any high-level conference including the leaders of Soviet Russia so long as the Soviet bloc countries are promoting a war of aggression in Korea, a war of aggression in Indochina—against Laos; so long as in Europe they refuse to restore the independence of Austria and withdraw their occupation troops from that small and inoffensive country."

It was the first full-fledged news conference Dulles had given on his fact-finding tour of the Middle East and South Asia.

He answered only written questions handed to him in advance and refused to make any off-the-cuff comments, a procedure which aroused resentment among 100 Indian reporters eager to get more details on Dulles' policy statements.

When the conference was over, many of the newsmen grumbled that Dulles' answers on Indochina, aid to India, a big-power conference, Middle East defense, and possible trade between Japan and Red China ran counter to the mainstream of Indian opinion.

Outside, police had arrested 60 Communist women seeking to present an "end the Korean War" memorandum to Dulles. They were held until Dulles left, then freed.

At the airport, Dulles said he felt his three days of talks with Prime Minister Nehru and other Indian leaders had led to better understanding on both sides.

Living Costs Rise Between March, April

Washington (AP)—Living costs rose slightly between March and April, to approach the record mark, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported yesterday.

The government index advanced only one-tenth of 1 per cent between mid-March and mid-April. But it was up for the second straight month, and brought the index within one-half of 1 per cent of the peak set last November.

Despite the increase, predictions that President Eisenhower's abandoning of wage and price controls several months ago would not materially affect consumer costs still are holding true. The consumer price level has been fluctuating in a narrow range.

Average wholesale prices remained unchanged over the week ended May 19, BLS reported last night.

Relief For Twin Cities

Port Huron, Mich., (AP)—Relief from state and federal agencies and from the Red Cross moved yesterday into the tornado-stricken twin cities of Port Huron and Sarnia, Ont., after a twister Thursday killed five persons, injured scores, and caused multi-million dollar damage.

Resort Owner Hits Upon Novel, Economical Way Of Reducing Unsafe Chimney To Size

Engineers throughout the world have performed many unique feats, but here's one by a resort hotel operator that takes the proverbial cake.

Faced with the problem of reducing a 70-foot high brick chimney about 10 feet, Walt Fossa claims he went into consultation with several engineers on the subtraction at his Pocono Mountain Inn.

Fossa sets up the plan this way:

"Why not shoot the bricks out one-by-one?" the resort operator thought. And that's just what he proposed, and what he says has been accomplished.

Perching Ed Kunkjian in an attic window—braced with pillows for comfort, Fossa handed him a high-powered rifle, and a 22 caliber one. Then he bought up all the ammunition he could find and Ed went to work.

Fossa says the target practice revolves around (1) loosening the mortar around the brick with a 22, then powdering the brick with the high powered rifle. And it works—Fossa says.

Shooting leisurely for the past two days, Ed has managed to reduce the chimney by 10 feet. Only a short distance remains and the chimney will be perfectly safe, the hotel owner reports.

When Fossa began compiling figures on the cost of chopping away 10 feet of bricks he came up with about $700. He says this new method will probably cost about $50. How much ammo was used? Well, Fossa's marks are down this way: 500 shells of 22 caliber longs, and 460 high powered shells.

Believe it? Well, Fossa says he has photos to prove it.

"The redactions just don't make sense," Yorty said.

He was following up an Air Force report which said the cut in funds would leave the Air Force well below the "absolute minimum" for national security.

Yorty read the report into the Congressional Record Thursday. An Air Force spokesman said yesterday it was prepared at Yorty's request in the office of Maj. Gen. Robert E. L. Elton, director of legislative liaison.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), whose Senate appropriations subcommittee heard testimony from Wilson on the Air Force cuts earlier this week, said he will demand that those responsible for the report go before his subcommittee. He said the report "disputes the facts as I understand them."

Wrong Painting Wins Show Prize

New York, (AP)—Grace Brennan, a Hinsdale, Ill., secretary painted a self portrait and didn't think she did too good a job.

So she used the reverse side of the picture to paint a cat. She liked that painting and entered it in a National Amateur Art Festival Competition here.

Today she has a prize from the festival judges—for the self portrait.

Body Of Drowning Victim Recovered

Barneget, N. J., (AP)—A fisherman yesterday found the body of one of the three Pennsylvanians who drowned after a small capsized their boat in Barneget Bay earlier this week.

The unidentified fisherman spotted the body of James Polkenhorn, 17, of Willow Grove, lying submerged in 2½ feet of water near Clam Island. The island is in the bay.

Polkenhorn's brother, Robert, 24, and his grandfather, Harry, 74, are still missing. His father, Edward, 44, survived.

Susan Shupp Loses Fight To Survive

Tiny, three-year-old Susan Shupp lost her fight for life last night in General Hospital.

Susan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy J. Shupp, Effort, was critically injured Thursday night near her home when she darted into the highway and ran into the left rear wheel of a truck, according to State police.

Operator of the truck was Susan's uncle, Dale Shupp, also of Effort, who had just pulled up on "old Route 115." Susan, apparently running to her father across the road, was struck by the left rear part of the vehicle.

Relatives took the girl to Dr. John Martucci, Brodheadsville. Dr. Martucci gave emergency treatment for "severe shock."

Brodheadsville State police arrived on the scene in answer to a summons from Mrs. Martucci. The troopers rushed Susan to Monroe County General Hospital.

Surgeons there began their night-long efforts to save the small girl's life. Nurses took up a vigil beside her bed.

After midnight, the hospital said Susan's brain had been damaged by the concussion. Her condition was listed as "critical" then.

Throughout the day yesterday, Susan's condition remained the same. At 5:10 p.m., a check with the hospital showed her condition was still "critical."

Less than an hour later, Susan died.

Surviving, in addition to her parents and her uncle, are a brother, Lee; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Harvey Mackes, Gilbert; and paternal grandmother, Mrs. William Shupp, Effort. She was enrolled in the Effort Lutheran Sunday School.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Kresge funeral home, Brodheadsville, in charge of Rev. James R. Laubach. Interment will be in Effort Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday after 7 p.m.

Gen. Curtis Heads State Guard Unit

Harrisburg, (AP)—Maj. Gen. Charles C. Curtis, of Allentown, yesterday was named commanding general of the newly-reactivated 28th Infantry Division of the Pennsylvania Guard.

The 50-year-old Curtis, a newspaper advertising director in civilian life, will head the gigantic task of reorganizing the PNG's main body that was federalized nearly three years ago.

The reactivation of the famed Keystone unit means that there will be two separate 28th divisions until the federalized body, now on occupation duty in Germany, is released by the regular Army.

State Adj. Gen. Frank A. Weber has fixed a goal of 17,500 officers and men for recruitment in the new 28th.

Curtis received his appointment yesterday in a brief ceremony in the office of Gov. John S. Fine along with his two new chief assistants.

Brig. Gen. Henry K. Fluck, Somerset, will be assistant division commander while Brig. Gen. William S. Bailey, Harrisburg, will serve as division artillery commander.

The three new top-level officers are planning conferences in each regimental and battalion area.

Former officers and enlisted men of the division will be invited to attend these organization meetings, Weber said.

Weber also disclosed that the State Military Affairs Department has received all new ordnance material, trucks, guns and individual clothing and equipment. This will be allocated as soon as the division receives federal recognition.

Location of the new 28th units will remain the same wherever possible. Local armories throughout the state already have been renovated in preparation for the new division units.

Grace Church To Honor Two Nonagenarians

Two charter members of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, whose combined ages total 183 years, will be honored at the 10:15 service of Holy Communion on Sunday morning.

Mrs. A. Y. Hoffman celebrated her 92nd birthday yesterday. The Women's Missionary Society will place chancel flowers in the sanctuary in honor of their oldest living member. Mrs. Hoffman, affectionately known as Clara by her host of friends, has held an almost unbroken record of both Sunday School and church attendance through her 57 years of affiliation with Grace Church. She is also a member of the Ladies Aid and E. M. Walters Bible Class. She has been confined to her home at 83 Ananias St., East Stroudsburg, for the past three weeks due to illness.

The second nonagenarian to be honored will be Luther Hoffman, who will be 97 years old tomorrow. The Church Council, of which he is a member emeritus, will place a basket of flowers in the chancel in his honor. Mr. Hoffman is considered the patriarch of the Lutheran Church in Monroe County. It was primarily through his leadership and vision that Grace Lutheran Church came into being.

His historical writings and research into the early beginnings of the Lutheran Church in the Delaware Valley and Monroe County reach back almost a century. He served as Sunday School superintendent for almost half a century during which Grace Lutheran came to be recognized as one of the leading schools in the area. He has been made superintendent emeritus for life by the Church School Association. He has been confined to his home at 256 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, for the past several months.

The Whitensund observance of Holy Communion will be held at 10:45 a. m. tomorrow with the preparatory and confessional services preceding the administration of the sacrament. Rev. Jacob S. Kistler, pastor emeritus, will assist in the administration of the Holy Communion.

Rev. William F. Wunder will deliver a brief communion meditation on the theme, "Pentecostal Zeal". The chancel choir, under the direction of Carroll R. All, will sing. Mrs. Nellie Melchner will sing a soprano solo.

Altar flowers will be placed by Mrs. George Townsend and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Muschock in memory of Gene and George Townsend. Communion bulletins will be presented by Mrs. Jennie Kneek in memory of her mother, Mrs. Marie Palk; by Stephen R. Predmore in memory of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Predmore; and by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Townsend in memory of his father and brother, George and Gene Townsend.

Session of the Sunday School will be conducted at 9:45 a. m.

Pastor Gets STM Degree

Rev. Cecil F. E. Pottier, pastor of Grace Evangelical United Brethren Church, Telford, Pa. for the past two years and formerly pastor of the Saylorsburg-Ackermanville, Pa., charge in upper Northampton and lower Monroe Counties, received the degree of Master of Sacred Theology (STM) at special ceremonies at the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Philadelphia Graduate School on Thursday.

Rev. Pottier's 159 page thesis, exclusive of title pages and pictures of illustration, was entitled "The History and Influence of the Evangelical Church in Monroe County; The Third Class founded by Jacob Albright (Phillips Class); A Treatise of the existing and defunct Evangelical Churches in that county." The author devoted almost five years of effort in producing the exhaustive research thesis.

Few records were available to the author, since ministers of the "circuit rider" days did not have the time nor the ability to keep church records of any sort. Thus, the major portion of the paper was based upon oral tradition, the few records that do exist, a survey of the church papers written in English, which are references to Monroe County journals and published and unpublished books relating to the subject.

Several interesting facts which the author gleaned from the records and tradition of the Evangelical Church (now the Evangelical United Brethren since church merger with the Church of the United Brethren in Christ in 1946) history is the fact that the "third class" founded by Jacob Albright, founder of the denomination, which is referred to as the Phillips Class is located in the vicinity of lower Monroe County.

Most denominational historians were vague as to the location of the Phillips class, because it wasn't certain as to its location. From facts of geography, records of Monroe and Northampton County, this "class" met in a home, part of which is still being used as a dwelling only a half a mile southwest of Route 12 and 209 near Scotia. The Evangelicals were among the first religious groups to enter Monroe County following the Revolutionary War and the first

Observance Of Pentecost Scheduled At Services In St. John's Lutheran Church

More than 19 centuries ago an event took place in the city of Jerusalem, which gave birth to the Christian Church. This event is celebrated within the Christian churches throughout the world as Pentecost or Whitsunday. It marked the outpouring of the Holy Ghost as the disciples of Jesus and others were assembled in prayer and through which visitation thousands were brought into fellowship with the Church.

This festival will be celebrated in St. John's Lutheran Church tomorrow at all services and the session of the church school. At 10:45 a. m. Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlson will conduct a preparatory service to be followed by the administration of the Sacrament of Holy Communion.

Dr. Wohlson will bring the message on "The Welcome Visitor". He will be assisted in the administration of the Sacrament by Rev. John Mangum, editor of "Luther Life," official magazine of the Lutheran League of America. Robert H. Catchart, organist and choirmaster, will play "A Prelude for Pentecost." The Senior Choir will sing. The altar flowers will be placed by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wagner as a memorial to their son, Robert.

At 3 p. m. the Sacrament of Infant Baptism will be administered at the sacred font. In order that those unable to attend the Holy Communion service in the morning, a similar service will be conducted at 7:30 p. m. with appropriate music by the organist and senior choir.

The session of the church school will be conducted at 9:45 a. m.

Dr. J. L. Rumsey will be out of town from May 16 to May 26, inclusive.—Adv.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—I Corinthians 5-9.
By Newman Campbell

While our manner of living in our western world is far more comfortable, due to modern inventions, than it was in the days of the early Christian church of which Paul writes, the same old evils that he wrote about so vigorously are still with us.

In Corinth, that great Grecian city—one of the most important cities of the Roman world—there was much wickedness. Paul had established a Christian church there, but he is aware of the sins of the citizens of Corinth and the temptations confronting the members of his church there, so he writes with vigor, wisdom and love to the disciples there of their most pressing problems.

First he takes up the subject of immoral living. Word has come to him that one of their number was living with his father's wife, and that the brethren not only did not rebuke him, but actually seemed proud of his iniquity.

Paul reminds the Corinthians that "a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump." Keeping such a man in their church might contaminate many, or the whole church, as a rotten apple in a basket or barrel would, if left among the good fruit, in time cause all to become unsound.

"Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person," he writes. Immoral living brings its own punishment in the physical and spiritual destruction of the sinner. This we know.

Paul writes: "What? know ye that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?"

"For ye are bought with a price: (the Crucifixion of Christ); therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's."

When you are tempted, think of these words of Paul's written so long ago, but as trenchant today as they were then.

Next Paul takes up the matter of quarrels among the brethren, and rebukes the taking of these troubles to heathen courts so that the defrauded may be revenged.

"Is it so that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren? But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers . . . Nay, ye do wrong, and defraud, and that your brethren. Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God?"

As far as we know Paul was not married. He may have been, of course, and the wife died, but he never does mention her. He believed in marriage, however, according to his letters, and he even suggested that if a sanctified brother married an unbeliever, he should not leave her, and the same for the sanctified wife who wed an unbeliever.

"For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband, else were your children unclean; but now they are holy."

"For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?"

Now as to the problem of eating meat that had been offered to idols, which Paul takes up next, a word of explanation seems necessary, so I quote R. C. H. Lenski. "The pagan temple rituals, and many state occasions, festivals, the lives of families and of individuals, all involved sacrifices to the gods and the participation of larger or smaller circles in the feasts connected with these rituals."

The desire to participate in such feasts, united with the obligations of family connections or of friendship, raised the question, how far a Christian might go in this regard.

A part of the animal was burned on the pagan altar, the rest was prepared for the feast that American founded denomination among the early settlers.

Great Teacher Theme Chosen

"A Great Teacher" will be the subject of the sermon to be presented in Zion Church by Rev. Frank H. Blatt at 11 a. m. Sunday. The Senior Choir sings under the direction of Mrs. Lucy Quig.

Methodists To Observe Two Dates

Tomorrow Methodists will observe the celebration of the Pentecost experience and the Aldersgate experience of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism. The two events come on the same day for the last time in this century.

Since this is the 200th anniversary of the birth of John Wesley which occurred in June the time will be one of rethinking the two experiences that brought new life to religion—the Pentecostal experience of the early apostles when the church was started on its world-wide evangelism of the first century and the Aldersgate experience of John Wesley which revived the church of the 18th century and produced the Methodist Church which today numbers about nine million in the United States alone.

Rev. Claude L. Heitman, minister of the Canadensis Methodist Church, will preach in the morning on "The Promise Is to You," basing his remarks on Acts 2:39: "For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off even as many as the Lord our God shall call."

Evening services will continue during the balance of May and into June.

Youth Delegate To Be Selected

The young people of the Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventist Church will send a delegate to represent the local congregation at a Pan-American Youth Congress set for June 16-20 in San Francisco's Civic Auditorium. Pastor Russell R. Adams announced yesterday.

Approximately 18,000 Adventist youth from churches in all parts of North and South America are expected to attend the five-day event, the church leader said. The person selected by the Stroudsburg church youth group will be one of 2,000 official delegates.

Announcement of the Stroudsburg delegate will be made next week, leaders of the Stroudsburg Youth Fellowship report.

Professor Reviews History Of Christianity In Area At Kunkletown Celebration

Kunkletown—History of the establishment of Christianity in this section was reviewed here this week by Rev. John R. Weinick, Ph.D., at one of the services in the rededication series of St. Matthew's Union Church.

Dr. Weinick, professor of historical theology at Moravian Seminary, Bethlehem, noted the Moravians, originally composed of reformers and members of Protestant faiths in Europe, brought the gospel here.

They set up missions among the Indians in this region, he said. The first was built in 1746 at Gnadenhuetten, now Lehigh, and the local mission, Meniologoneka, was established in 1749.

Many massacres by the Indians necessitated the transfer of Christian Indians to Gnadenhuetten or Wechquetank (now Gilbert). After each massacre the Moravians would help re-establish the mission station. Dr. Weinick said. In 1755 a group of white men, Lutheran and Reformed, permanently organized congregations.

Neighboring pastors brought greetings for the service. They included Rev. Luther Wohrman, of Palmerton; Rev. Alton Albright, of Gilbert; Rev. John Bergstresser, of Hamilton; Rev. Carl Berger, of Mauch Chunk and William Lesh, of Snyder'sville.

Rev. Feltham To Speak At Hospital

Seminary at Drew University, Madison, N. J. He will graduate from there in Jan. 1954.

Rev. Godshalk is being transferred to Hulmeville.

Rev. Weller leaves the Pocono Lake charge for Lehighon-Parryville. He has been pastor here for two years. A native of Bristol he is receiving his ministerial education at Drew University, where he graduates this year. Before coming here he was assistant pastor at Allentown.

His successor, James Pain, is studying at Drew where he graduates next year. The new minister is a native of California and is not married.

Bible Lesson Topic Announced

"Soul And Body" is the subject of the Bible Lesson in All Christian Science churches Sunday. The Golden Text is from St. Paul's Second Epistle to the Corinthians (3:18): "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord."

Among Scriptural selections in the lesson-sermon are these verses from the Psalms of David (90:1,17 to colon): "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations . . . And let the beauty

THE CHURCH

...as GOD sees it

Man and God see things differently. That's why man needs the Church—it helps him see things God's way.

But, strangely, even the Church itself looks different to man and God. To man the Church appears to be an organization. It has leaders, officials, boards, members. It has a charter, owns property, sometimes has a mortgage. And even though its aims are the highest in life, still its members are imperfect human creatures like ourselves.

To God the Church is an organism, a living thing. It is the Spirit of Christ touching men's hearts, forgiving their sins, awakening their faith. It is the Word of Truth commanding the attention and changing the lives of men, women and children. It is Divine Power transforming human sorrow to joy.

Man can learn how to see the Church as God sees it. But never by looking down upon the Church. Only by going inside the Church to worship God, and looking UP.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hard Coal 'Hard Nut'

One of the serious problems facing the economy of Pennsylvania is that of the plight of the hard coal industry. Throughout the anthracite region unemployment is growing as mines are closed down.

Anthracite leaders, searching for a solution to their declining production are holding meetings in an attempt to find some way for coal to compete with rising oil consumption as a heat fuel, have come up with only one idea that stands some hope of accomplishing good. That is the plan to consolidate all coal companies into one immense coal company. Not all industry leaders agree with this premise, and until the problem is completely examined there is no actual hope that consolidation itself will provide the relief that is so necessary.

Long one of Pennsylvania's best income producing industries, the anthracite coal business has gone steadily down hill as more and more home and industrial users have switched to oil fuels. The result has been fewer jobs with smaller production. The coal field acres are hard hit and unless some solution can be found, the trend toward more unemployment is bound to follow.

The hopes of many are riding with the anthracite leaders as they and their workers seek a solution to this mess, a battle that, if lost, could sound the death knell of what once was a cornerstone of America's industry.

Censorship in America

A timely speech by Sen. Price Daniel, Texas Democrat, reminds that President Eisenhower still has not revoked the censorship order issued by President Truman in September, 1951.

That order permits all Government agencies — not simply the military — to withhold information from the press and public.

Under it the people cannot be assured of access to facts they are entitled to have. Government administrators decide what the people should be allowed to know about what an agency is doing.

As Senator Daniel said, the press and radio can do a great job of informing the people, but that job can only be done if the representatives of press and radio have full and free access to information about the Government, on all levels.

"I can think of no greater threat to the republic than for the radio in your living room and the newspaper on your doorstep to become the mouthpiece of a Federal propaganda machine," he said.

Neither can we, President Eisenhower should cancel the order that created that danger.

TIME-PAYMENT STOCKS

It may soon be possible to buy stocks and bonds on the installment plan, just as you buy cars, TV sets, ice boxes, homes — and what not, Keith Funston, imaginative head of the New York Stock Exchange, knowing of the growing desire of the public to have a stake in industry, proposes a broader market through the so-called "down - so - much - per - week" system. When the doorbell rings from now on you may not be certain whether it is the man to collect on the sedan, the refrigerator or your stock exchange operations. We may even get the TV sales approach with the beautiful gal displaying a stock certificate and chirping "Note the modern design! . . . the delicate beauty! . . . the suggestion of hidden power! Observe the smart lines in the small type. Yes, this is the stock that can't kill. And remember it's available in the king-size or regular certificates. Doctors who have examined 100 buyers of this stock have not reported one case of throat scratch due to yawning and squawching over day-to-day quotations. Note the filtered tip which screens out recessions! Yes, there is a reason why this is the fastest-selling security in America today. Go to your broker NOW and try this issue!"

We can hear the American housewife complaining, "George, George has U. S. Steel. Why can't we have some?" "I'm the only woman on this street without General Motors Common!" and "Our children are being twitted by the neighbors' children because we haven't any du Pont."

The Democratic Party is planning to issue a magazine . . . Using a "donkey" press, of course . . . Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt is making a trip around the world . . . Anything to avoid any possibility of a little rest, relaxation and tranquility . . . General Alf Gruenther, now Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, was the young West Pointer who referred the famous Culbertson-Lenz bridge whist tournament back in 1931. And brother, that was war! In a fire alarm because his girl had upset him . . . Well, in springtime a man can get so high in the air over a thing like this that nothing but fire department extension ladders can get him down . . . Drive-in Movie lots are being used for Sunday church service in some communities, and the idea jars us a little, as we think a man needs nothing less than he needs encouragement in the idea he can show his faith without getting out of the auto . . . Crackmen broke into a Queens, N. Y., postoffice and stole $50,000 . . . Probably stopped to mail out a card to the cops "Having wonderful time; glad you're not here." . . . Jack Benny's final TV stuff clung to the old tight pockets motif and busted no vest buttons . . . The robin which hatched ducks on our farm during the wet spring is now teaching them to swim, having developed webbed feet herself.

There is one problem with securities that is not to be found in time-payment purchases of autos, etc.—it may be much harder to get an satisfactory second-hand allowance. And, of course, if the securities you have bought take a big tumble after the sixth payment, you may have 35 payments to go before you own your loss outright.

Years ago the average American would have been frightened stiff if he drove home in the car he didn't own, entered the house on which he must meet many more payments and sat on the installment-plan sofa to read a letter from his broker about the

Admiral Radford Will Be Given A Fifth Star Soon

Going up — Admiral Arthur Radford will be given a fifth star when he becomes head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

That has been definitely decided by President Eisenhower and Defense Secretary Wilson.

However, Radford will be stripped of an important office now held by outgoing General Bradley — U. S. representative on the Standing Military Committee of NATO.

That appointment is going to General J. Lawton Collins, the retiring Army Chief of Staff.

Still under 60, Collins wants to remain on active duty and President Eisenhower decided to use Collins' extensive battle experience in Europe by naming him to the influential NATO agency.

A special law will be necessary to elevate Radford to five-star rank. The measure is being prepared in the Pentagon and will be sent to Congress as an Administration proposal. Its enactment is certain as soon as his appointment as JCS chairman is confirmed.

Similarly, the President's plan to reorganize the Defense Department is sure of approval by Congress.

That was made certain when the plan won the backing of Representative Carl Vinson (D., Ga.), former chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. He expressed approval in a joint letter with Representative Dewey Short (R., Mo.), who now heads this powerful committee.

The Administration has not yet published this letter, but House Democratic leaders have been tipped off about it by Representative Overton Brooks (D., La.), Representative John McCormack, Mass., Democratic Whip, was planning to subject the reorganization proposal to critical scrutiny. But Vinson's endorsement is a body blow to a partisan attack.

Going along — The Atomic Energy Commission has agreed to that 30 percent cut in its new budget.

That's what Commission Chairman Gordon Dean told the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee at a private meeting on this issue. He disclosed that he and the other Commissioners originally opposed the slash, but finally accepted it.

Dean explained the decision was based on the belief the 30 percent reduction would not endanger U. S. atomic leadership.

"Who ordered this drastic slash?" asked Representative Mel Price (D., Ill.).

"The Budget Bureau," replied Dean.

"Who in the Budget Bureau?" demanded Price. "Give us names. Who did the actual cutting?"

"Director Dodge has the final say," explained Dean. "However, two other officials reviewed our budget. They made recommendations to Director Dodge."

"Did your Commission approve this reduction?"

"We are supporting the present budget," said Dean. "The Commission is unanimous on it. However, we were against the cuts before they were made by the Budget Bureau. We arrived at our final view because we do not think the reduction will impair the country's atomic leadership. But I must gravely warn you that any further cutting would endanger that leadership."

"In my opinion," snapped Price, "I think this cut is already endangering our leadership. To me, this is a clear case of putting the dollar ahead of security. I consider this money-grubbing of the worst kind."

Dean made no reply.

Note: Later, Dean told Committee members he will not return to California to enter Democratic politics after he steps out of the AEC. He said he is still undecided whether to remain in Washington or move to New York, where he has an attractive offer.

Job scramble — Three aspirants are after the chairmanship of the National Labor Relations Board. They are Charles Douds, New York regional director of the agency; Guy Farmer, former associate general counsel of the Board; and Avery Leiserson, nephew of a one-time chairman of the Board . . . W. Park Armstrong, Jr., intelligence chief of the State Department, is vigorously protesting a $326,000 cut in his budget. Armstrong is warning congressional leaders that the slash will force the dismissal of more than 50 experienced intelligence officials at a time when this staff should be increased.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Cupid Is A Democrat And Given Free Hand Denies The Differences In Human Race

Boy Meets Girl

A reader telephoned to me to suggest that I do a column on the subject of a rich girl, Sara Delano Roosevelt, descendant of Franklin D. Roosevelt, becoming engaged to a poor boy, Anthony di Bonaventura, the son of a barber. He said that I have been serious too long. Yet, what can be more serious or important than love and marriage, than the young in Spring finding a new world?

Which of these two is rich or poor, I do not know, because money is never the criterion with youth. Maybe they are both rich in the contentments that come to them from their common bond of great music. Perhaps the young man is rich in the sense of strength and in the stability that comes from an early struggle for the sun against what some mistakenly call poverty. Perhaps the young lady has been enriched by an experience with a broken home and with a kindly stepfather who adopted her.

Who can know about such things that are deep in the memories of children and growing young people?

When I was very young, women reporters, professionally known as sob sisters, were sent on such stories. They would interview an immigrant mother who spoke not a word of English and who either beamed with joy or wept out of the anguish of losing a child to some alien and frightening environment. And maybe a small boy, like myself, would step out of the crowd of neighbors to interpret as best one could the story of struggle and high hopes.

There are hundreds such marriages among us in this country, because social barriers are disappearing, particularly in our colleges. Students of sociology cannot be too impressed by the term, "good families," and students of biology know that it is the genes and the chromosomes, and not the blood, that count in inherited qualities.

So they go along loving each other as the opportunities offer, because money does not count, anyhow. Four deaths, and a great estate is wiped out by taxes. It is not impossible to conceive of a Vanderbilt barber, just as old man di Bonaventura is a barber. And what is wrong with being a barber? Somebody tried to give him a pedigree as coming down from the Romans, which is undoubtedly correct, as it is with many Italians. Maybe, I am a descendant of King David. Who knows? I recall that my grandfather thought that he descended from Aaron, the brother of Moses, but he had no documents to prove it. Let us not go too far in genealogy, lest we discover that a man's a man no matter who his ancestor was a thousand years ago.

One of the celebrated marriages of my childhood was that of Rose Pastor to James G. Phelps-Stokes. Rose Pastor had started in a cigar factory and then wrote a column in a Yiddish newspaper, entitled "Among Ourselves, Girls," in which she gave advice freely, which is a journalistic habit. She particularly advised against intermarriage.

Along came Phelps-Stokes of Yale, rich, handsome, tall, to our very comfortable slums to be a settlement worker. He met Rose and married her and they moved down to the East Side of New York and became part of us. Phelps-Stokes entered politics and ran on William Randolph Hearst's ticket for the Independence League. Hearst was robbed by Tammany Hall and I, as a child, watched the destruction of the ballot boxes. It was one of my earliest lessons in practical politics.

Years later, Rose Pastor Stokes became one of the first American Communists and they were divorced. But it was a beautiful and exciting romance while it lasted.

A greater fuss used to be made over such adventures in romance 50 years ago than today, because the rich seemed to be richer and the poor seemed to be poorer. But we have been leveled to an economic common denominator and society in this country is no longer an aristocracy either of birth or money.

Cupid is a democrat and given free rein denies the differences that humans regard as so important. He shoots his arrows into two young people and they respond as did Adam and Eve or Romeo and Juliet or Peleas and Melisande and the less anybody does about it, the greater are the chances for happiness.

A REPORTER'S COCKA-DOODLE-DOODLING

A reporter's pleasure in securing news first is exceeded only by the satisfaction of having his judgment sustained. This happy event occurred again this week when N. Y. Times columnist Arthur Krock reported: "The question whether issues relevant to the freedom of the press were posed by Sen. McCarthy's recent examination of James Wechsler has been submitted by Wechsler to the American Society of Newspaper Editors. But a television panel of Washington reporters ('Meet the Press') strongly indicated that from their viewpoint this constitutional guarantee of press freedom was not in substance invaded by McCarthy and that the issue should not be raised except in instances where there is a clear violation of the guarantee."

The N. Y. Times columnist added: "To this correspondent, listening to the 'Meet the Press' Sunday program where these exchanges occurred, the refusal of these reporters to see an invasion of the First Amendment seemed soundly based." . . . Mr. Krock concluded: "Wechsler fended off. But he had given ground to the argument that, if McCarthy has not frightened the paper into surrendering any part of its guaranteed freedom, the guarantee had not been infringed." It should be noted that Arthur Krock has been one of Sen. McCarthy's critics.

The foregoing affirms the position taken by this reporter immediately after the Wechsler story broke. In a column titled "Backstage With an Editor and Senator" we declared: "Wechsler has tried to create the impression that the Senator represented a threat to the free press and he depicted himself as a journalistic martyr. The martyr's cloak cannot hide his naked shame . . . Many newsmen have rebuked Wechsler and have been assailed by them, including this columnist. The free press survived. The truth is that this exchange of criticism — indicates democracy's strength." In subsequent columns we stressed that Wechsler's pose as a free press defender was a fraud. Yet the N. Y. Compost continued to carry the headline: "McCarthy vs. the Free Press." This was a deliberate falsehood — an obvious attempt to obscure the real issue.

On the basis of opinions expressed by the "Meet the Press" newsmen and Arthur Krock plus Wechsler's own admissions — the free press infringement propaganda in the N. Y. Compost has been exposed as a journalistic hoax. Which explains why we warned and warned editors not to be suckers.

Incidentally, the facts also debunk a N. Y. Times editorial. It stated that the Senate Committee's examination of Wechsler "gets very close to an infringement of one of America's basic freedoms."

The United States News-World Report current issue offers a masterful essay authored by Rebecca West, the eminent British writer. It is titled "McCarthyism." The article encompasses the prime qualities of an historical document. It is a scholarly analysis based on the public record and is written with judicial calm. It severs fact from fiction with surgical skill. The article not only records Sen. McCarthy's investigations, but the Communist probes of other Congressional committees. It is not a whitewash of Sen. McCarthy. The essay notes his personal and political deficiencies.

Miss West emphasizes the tragedy of political expediency. Some Democrats have assailed Sen. McCarthy simply because he is a Republican. They made the investigation of Communists a partisan issue. She notes: "The investigating committees were tied up with an unpopular personality, and when the word 'McCarthyism' was coined the Democrats gained an immediate advantage and the Communists secured three important ends. Fraxipance, one advantage gained by the Reds: 'The fastidious section of the public that would most dislike Senator McCarthy would now regard persons called before the committees as delicate Davids bracing a gross Goliath' and such as were Communists — could get the benefit of the doubt."

This provides a deadly parallel with what Dorothy Schiff (the alleged publisher) wrote in the May 17, 1953 N. Y. Compost: "Jimmy Wechsler's fearless bearding of the beast has been successful. His rapier wit has pierced the dragon's scale. Another David has arisen to stone Goliath."

In all Africa there are only four independent countries not associated with colonial empires: Egypt, Ethiopia, Liberia and Libya.

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

How old are you?

Please don't say I am impudent or that it is none of my business.

Of course it isn't — but it certainly is yours.

I don't mean how old you are in years. That hasn't a thing to do with it. It doesn't make any difference whether you are ten, twenty, thirty, sixty or eighty.

Years have nothing to do with a person's age. It's outlook on life that counts.

Ask a little girl how old she is. She'll never say five or six or seven. It's always "almost six" or "seven years and four months."

That is the time of life when the only trouble about aging is that it is so slow in coming. When you are 17 and fall in love for the first time with a man much older, you are ashamed of your youth. You wish you could make yourself 20, and usually do (that is often the first white lie you ever tell).

With boys, it's about the same, only generally for different reasons. It may be a job that requires at least 18 years of having lived. Or, maybe the kid wants to join the army. Or he might want to be a prize fighter.

The only advice I can give a boy like that is, don't try to make yourself any older than you are until AFTER your voice changes. That is a dead giveaway.

Then from about 20 to 39, people don't give much thought to their age.

There are too many things to do. Marriage, setting up a home, having and rearing children, trying to get ahead in the world. Those are all matters that take up too much time to think of age and of one's self.

Those, in my opinion, are the BEST years of one's life.

Then suddenly comes the fortieth birthday.

If one is not yet married by that time one becomes — in one's own mind — an old maid or a confirmed bachelor.

From then on the cosmetic manufacturers, the hair dressers, the reducing salons, the diet counselors, become a very important part of one's life.

Case Register Proposed To T-B Society

A recommendation that Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society Institute a local case register to show the up-to-date statistics on TB was submitted to the society this week in the annual report of Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary.

Meeting in the society's office, Sarah St., Stroudsburg, the organization was informed of eight deaths from tuberculosis in the county during 1951 and advised the 1952 figures have not yet been compiled by the state.

Seven of the county deaths occurred to persons over 45 years of age and the other was between 15 and 44. The report also shows that seven were male and one female.

By comparison the deaths show an increase over 1949 and 1950 when six occurred each year. But the average annual death rate for the county was only 19.7 for 100,000 people while the state figure shows 22.1.

In 1951 three tuberculosis cases were reported to the state. In 1950 there were seven reported and in 1949 only one.

Mrs. Fleming's statement called for the local case register "because the increase in tuberculosis mortality shows there is still a job to do in case-finding in Monroe County."

Carl Secor, president, directed the meeting which saw the election of C. Elwood Huffman, Marshalls Creek, as a member of the board of directors. Re-elected for the year are Secor, Mrs. Robert Hartman, Jonas T. May, Horace G. Heller, M. E. Leffler, Morris Evans and Kurt Wimer. The slate was presented by Dr. Robert Brown, nominating committee chairman.

The resignation of Evans as treasurer was accepted and Elwood Hintze was named to fill the unexpired term.

President Secor urged members to contact state representatives asking them to vote against the merger of the health, welfare and public assistance departments.

Report of the recent public health meeting was made by Mrs. Alexander Coles. Secor reviewed a questionnaire on qualifications and contracts which the county society is required to file with the Pennsylvania TB Society.

An invitation to attend the annual dinner meeting of the Children's Aid Society at Penn-Stroud Hotel, May 26, was received.

Budget for the year was submitted by Treasurer Evans.

Members voted to secure a mimeograph machine for the local office.

Mrs. Fleming's report covered the educational program in the county; disclosed the real sale total for 1953 as $8,278.23, compared with 1943's $4,080.08 and noted three people working in the county have been rehabilitated and another person is employed after more than four years as a sanatorium patient.

The report paid tribute to the borough of Stroudsburg for establishing a board of health and for having a trained sanitarian as health officer. Samuel Van Gordon, the report said, spent nine weeks at the University of Pittsburgh and six weeks in field work with a trained health officer.

Scarantino Given 2-3 Year Sentence For Auto Deaths

Belvidere, N. J., (AP)—John Scarantino, 21-year-old Scranton, Pa., truck driver, yesterday was sentenced to two to three years in prison for the auto deaths of 10 members of a farm family in a single crash.

Scarantino had entered a plea of guilty during his trial on an indictment charging causing death by auto.

Superior Court Judge Joseph L. Smith made no comment in the sentencing. Scarantino told the court he was sorry about the deaths but said he thought he used proper judgment in the operation of the truck.

Scarantino had faced a maximum of three years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Clarence Matlock, a Silver Lake dairy farmer, his wife, five children, two sisters and mother, were all killed in a collision with a truck Scarantino was driving on March 20 on a two-lane highway in near-by Washington Twp.

The accident was classed by the National Safety Council as the "greatest number of people ever to be killed as occupants of a single passenger automobile."

Scarantino already had been sentenced to 120 days in jail and fined $600 for reckless driving and for driving while his license was revoked.

Judge Smith directed that his prison sentence be served in the Bordentown, N. J., Reformatory.

Junior Woman's Club Close Successful Year At Dinner

The Junior Woman's Club closed a successful year during which they contributed almost $1,000 to charity and their services to many local community efforts with a purely social meeting at the Fernwood, near Bushkill.

Mrs. Richard Fredenberg, retiring president, presided at the meeting introducing the guests at the speakers table and their husbands: Mrs. George T. Robinson, retiring president of the Senior Woman's Club; Mrs. Grant Nitrauer, senior advisor for four years; Mrs. Chester Miller, treasurer; Mrs. Warren Mikels, vice president and welfare chairman; Mrs. John Sibley, program chairman and president-elect, and Mrs. Horace Westbrook.

Mrs. Sibley as her first official act presented a gift to Mrs. Fredenberg for her services to the club during a successful administration. Mrs. Grant Nitrauer also received a gift of appreciation, presented by Mrs. Fredenberg.

A scrap book of the highlights of her administration was presented to Mrs. Fredenberg by Mrs. James Cummings, immediate past president.

Welcomed back from Japan were Major and Mrs. Jay LaVan. A special tribute was paid to the husbands of members who as a self-styled "Men's Auxiliary" had contributed much to the success of the club's venture, Mrs. Fredenberg said.

Dinner music was provided by George Renay and his orchestra, who also played for the dance, which followed. Mrs. Sibley had arranged a number of specialty dances.

The banquet was arranged by Mrs. Kay Price and Mrs. Robert Altomare, with Mrs. Elwood German preparing the place cards.

SHOPPER

I imagine Miss Hawaii knows all about wolves. The two legged kind. But she is too fine a young lady to make any comment about men except that she finds them "very nice". Her greatest worry, "very nice", is not boys her own age and upwards... but those in the eight to thirteen category, who stamped the fashion apparel department after school each afternoon to admire her and ask, in tongue-tied embarrassment, for her autograph.

After an incident of yesterday, I can very well imagine that the youngsters, on occasion, give her a rather hard time. Several of us were standing at the jewelry department, selecting a farewell gift for Beverly, when a group of four boys catapulted down the stairway with the speed of a space ship. "I have it," the one boy yelled loudly, waving a paper upon which Miss Rivera had written her name. "Her telephone number too?"

"Oh... did she give you that?" I inquired.

The youngster flushed and grinned. "No," he admitted, "but I bet she gives it to Eddie. I'll have to go back and see."

With that he leaped up the stairway again, only to be met halfway by "Eddie" who was also waving an autograph and beaming.

Later, Beverly stole away from her advisers for a quiet coke in my office where several of the girls had assembled to surprise her. She chuckled happily about the boastful remarks of the admiring school-boys—a decided contrast to the breathless whispers in which they address her when she tries to talk with them. "One little boy did ask for my telephone number," she admitted. "But it was a dare, I think, and he asked in a very fast whisper."

It isn't often a visitor to our store rates a surprise party. But the small affair for Miss Hawaii was planned spontaneously, and with complete sincerity. There was a cake, baked by Gracie Grace, with green sugar sprinkled over the yellow icing to represent waves. Gracie also included a small chocolate island with a palm tree. For good measure, there was a tiny glass monkey under the tree. "Why there I am," chuckled Beverly. There was also a hula doll with outstretched arms, holding a gift to which was pinned a silver key... to the store, the Poconos, and our hearts.

Miss Hawaii closes her visit with us today. You can still see her modeling sportswear in our fashions department. Tomorrow she goes to Lansford... then Allentown... and eventually back to Honolulu. "Aloha," Beverly... until such time as we can say "hello" again!

WALKING INTO THE TRAVEL BUREAU I found Edna Brockman literally submerged in posters about Nassau and pictures of the delightful cruise ship S. S. Nassau, which is scheduled to take a group of Wyckoff excursionists from New York City on Friday, July 10th for seven days of luxurious, heavenly rest and play. Fully air conditioned, this boat would be a perfect vacation headquarters. Fact is, even during the two day stay in Nassau one sleeps aboard.

All-inclusive prices for the seven days, from New York, are $160, $180, and $190. Edna will be in her office today to answer questions and make reservations. How's that for a honeymoon hint?

Bangor Club Signing Up Blood Donors

An effort by the Bangor Kiwanis Club to bring volunteers to East Stroudsburg next Tuesday to contribute blood for the 150-pint quota set for the drive, is under way in the Slate Belt.

George Remagen, chairman of the Kiwanis committee, said yesterday the appeal will be carried to Blue Ridge Textile Co. for volunteers, but assured that future drives here would be met by a greater number of Northampton County contributors.

The blood appeal by Monroe County Red Cross chapter was carried to the Kiwanis Club by Leroy Mikels, blood bank chairman, because of the immediate need in Monroe County.

Mikels told the Kiwanians of Bangor that 62 of 388 pints administered at Monroe County Hospital since January 1, have gone to Northampton County residents.

Remagen said the time element was too short for a concerted Bangor campaign now, but announced his committee would swing into action to assist in all future Monroe County blood drives.

Mikels said yesterday that walk-ins would probably determine the success of Tuesday's visit to East Stroudsburg Methodist Church of the bloodmobile unit.

When the unit visited there last month almost 100 people were turned away because of the overflow which contributed 312 pints, topping the goal of 300 pints. Tuesday's campaign opens at 10 a.m. and concludes at 4 p.m.

Woolworth To Add 40 New Stores

Watertown, N. Y., (AP) F. W. Woolworth Co. hopes to add 40 new stores this year in a move to combat increased competition from chain druggists and supermarkets. A. L. Cornwell, president and chairman, told the annual meeting here.

At the end of 1952 Woolworth had 1,560 stores and by the end of this year the company expects to be nearing the 2,000 mark, he asserted.

Sales of the huge "five-and-dime" operation totaled $200,636,181 during the first four months of 1953 a gain of $83,540 over the first four months last year. The slight increase, Cornwell said, was "not encouraging" and the four-month volume is "causing us concern."

Noting that drug chains and supermarkets are going in heavily for the same kind of small-houses, Cornwell said "competitive conditions are much more acute than at any time for many years." But, he added, the company is ready to "meet the impact of additional competition from whatever source."

These eight directors were re-elected to three-year terms:

Cornwell, of Brookfield Center, Conn.; Samuel H. Huber, Dalton, Pa.; Allan P. Kirby, Morristown, N. J.; James T. Leftwich, Glenridge, N. J.; Byron D. Miller, Portland, Me.; Eremont C. Peck, LaCrosse Valley, Long Island; Merritt E. Seward, Larchmont, N. Y.; and Frederick J. Weckesser, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Speaker Notes Breakdown Of Family Life

Tension, lack of time and other factors contributing to the breakdown of American family life formed the focal discussion point at the 26th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania League for Planned Parenthood yesterday at Pocono Manor.

Principal speaker was Dr. O. Spurgeon English, professor and head of the department of psychiatry, Temple University Medical School and Hospital, Philadelphia.

Dr. English addressed delegates and directors from 12 areas at the State-wide conference.

In an address at 10:30 a. m., Dr. English said "figures of delinquency, crime, neuroses, divorce and separation should give us pause for thought" on modern family life.

The noted psychiatrist pointed to many improvements in human relations during the past but indicated "family life perhaps is not progressing as it should."

"Why haven't human relations gone ahead in line with technological developments?" he asked. "We seem to lag behind in leading the happy life."

Foremost among the "many changes" which have occurred in human relations, he declared, is the fact that today's family is confronted by "higher standards which sap energies. Today, women have more labor-saving devices than ever before—yet the woman has little more time for herself or her family."

One of the reasons for this, Dr. English continued, is that today's wife and mother is living "in a different home . . . where there is only one woman to take care of the house and children. Young people who marry today want to be alone at all cost. In undertaking to live alone the wife pays the price of tension."

"The father has been separated from his family . . . by his job (for which) he must leave the home early in the morning and many times not return until late at night," the psychiatrist said.

Another factor contributing to tension within the family, he said, is the current trend toward salaried employment.

"Where, 100 years ago, four-fifths of our population had their own businesses; today only one-fifth of the people are their own bosses. Today, people work on a salary. The father has less time with his children besides the fact that they are no longer working together in the business or on the farm."

"Everybody's busy, everybody's on the move," Dr. English said. Modern man spends much of his time attempting to save time, he continued. "We hurry to save time. But what do we do with the time? We get a new project. We do not rest."

"The great dilemma of today is to find time for quietness, relaxation and a mutual enjoyment of family life," the speaker said. "Everything we do that makes us wiser threatens to take away the wisdom that brings peace of mind."

One of the problems confronting every family, he declared, is the acute lack of cooperative jobs for mother and daughter, father and son. "What can the boy do in the home? There's no furnace to take of, no lawn to mow (in most cases). The mother has so many electrical appliances (she is able to do things faster) and there's nothing left for the daughter to do with her."

Many parents, he continued, discourage assistance from their children because their standards are too high and they don't want to have to do the job over again. "It takes great strength of character to let a child do something imperfectly," Dr. English said.

"We've got to find a way in which we can impart to the young (the idea) that we must make family life a richer place. No one has time to teach the young how to live. Since the home is not doing it, I think the educational institutions, church and home (must work) as an extension of each other. We must make the children a source of joy and pride. We must be more interested. I believe we've got to have a great deal more pride in each other."

"With all this perfectionism we expect too much of each other in marriage," Dr. English continued. "We must have more discussion of human relations and the family in the classroom . . . put more attention to it in college. We must have more concentration on living instead of earning."

During the discussion period which followed his address, Dr. English remarked with a smile that "No one should graduate from college without having spent at least 48 hours with a three-year-old" in answer to a question from the audience.

The leading psychiatric educator voiced approval of plans calling for marriage counselling courses in high school and college systems.

Dr. English was one of two speakers during the luncheon program which was devoted specifically to family planning. Other speaker on the 12:30 panel was Mrs. Julius Long Stern, Wilkes-Barre, who has recently returned from a trip to Japan and Thailand. Arrangements for the full-day conference were made by the Monroe County Planned Parenthood Association, Mrs. Neal D. Cokerly, president.

Association board members are Mrs. Harold B. Flagler, Paul Delaria, Mrs. Jesse Flory, Mrs. A. G. A social meeting honoring delegates from other areas was held Thursday night at the Manor golf club.

At a business meeting yesterday two local delegates—Dr. Charlotte Jordan and Mrs. David Mazer—were elected to three-year terms on the State League's board of directors. Mrs. A. B. McDowell was elected to the board last year.

A. F. Mazetti, 62, Succumbs In Hospital

Anthony F. Mazetti, 62, local real estate broker who resided in Stroud Township, died at Monroe County General Hospital at 12:10 a.m. yesterday.

Mr. Mazetti was a native of New York City. He retired in 1943 as president of the Maresa Mazetti Corp., a catering firm and settled permanently on the Mazetti farm, used by the Mazetti family for years as a summer or part time residence.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Lawrence Cassidy, New York; half-brother, Louis C. Mazetti, Friends Hospital, Philadelphia; a nephew, Rev. Laurence L. Cassidy, S. J., Plattsburg, N. Y.

Funeral services will be held today at 10 a.m. with requiem mass in St. Matthew's Catholic Church. Rev. Harold G. Durkin will be the celebrant. Interment will be made in Gates of Heaven section, Laurelwood Cemetery.

Lanterns are in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Biggs Dies On Eve Of Birthday

Mrs. May Biggs, 58, died at her home, 621 Sarah St., Stroudsburg, at 11:30 p.m. Thursday, on the eve of her 59th birthday.

She was a graduate of Stroudsburg High School, class of 1911. A native of this area, the daughter of Lewis E. and Nettie Lehr Phillips, she had lived all her life here. She was a member of Zion Reformed Church.

Surviving are her husband, John; one daughter, Mrs. William Reaser, Stroudsburg; one grandson; two aunts and one uncle.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at Warner funeral home, Rev. Frank H. Blatt officiating. Interment will be made in Stroudsburg Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday after 7 p.m.

THE APPROACH OF MEMORIAL DAY

suggests that it is not only a most opportune time to devote our thoughts to our departed loved ones, and make some fitting gesture, but it is likewise an opportunity to reflect our needs with respect to a final resting place.

If it were necessary for us to purchase a home on an hour's notice it is very questionable if our selection would be wise or would permanently suit. It is quite possible the hasty selection would be costly and unsatisfactory. Singularly enough the majority of people put off the decision and purchase of a Cemetery plot—the final dwelling place—until they are forced to do it. Very often the decision is made when hearts are deepest in grief and minds too shocked to know what they are doing.

You are the best one to decide this matter for yourself and your family—now, when you can do so calmly—wisely—and after satisfying yourself on the several important points. At this particular season we solicit the opportunity to tell you the advantages and future plans of our Cemetery. A phone call will bring our representative who will gladly, and without obligation, take you through the development.
